Open Day – 12 November 2011

Fontys International Campus Venlo

With 40,000 students Fontys is the largest university of applied sciences in the Netherlands. It offers higher education in the field of management, economics and engineering in English, German and Dutch. The International Campus in Venlo has the largest number of foreign students - 70%. It is located at the Dutch-German border - one of the world's strongest economic regions.

Fontys International Campus Venlo invites you for its next Open Day!

At the Open Day student counsellors, students and parents are introduced to our study programmes and university via presentations, guided tours, student companies and display of best practice cases.
