- Growing number of international schools worldwide, and with this degree students can work anywhere in the EU at International Schools
- Great international exchange possibilities
- Learning the Danish method of teaching which is very open minded
- Many possibilities for internship and exchange with partners abroad
- No tuition fee for EU students (Programme only accepts EU citizens)
- Small but strong student environment with over 15 nationalities
- The town of Vordingborg is only 1 hour and 15 minutes by train from central Copenhagen
- Small and intimate campus, students will know all fellow students
- Close relationship with teachers, will know them on first name basis
- Cheap accommodation (by Danish standards) available in the town
- Safe city where students can bike everywhere. Has beach and many outdoor areas nearby

Admission Requirements

- A grade average of minimum 7.0, on the Danish grading scale or a score from an interview of minimum 30 point
- English corresponding to Danish A-level

Interview

If average is below 7.0 on Danish grade scale or if the average is unknown or average cannot be converted to the Danish grade scale or get a positive individual competence assessment, students must participate in an interview to qualify for admission to the program.

Other basis for admission

If students do not meet the official admission requirements but have other qualifications that can be considered as equivalent, they can apply for admission with special permission through individual competence assessment.

We recommend that students attach a curriculum vitae (CV) to the application. Do not attach a motivated application letter to the application.

Shortly after study start:

- Pass the special 3-hour entrance examinations to The International Honours Degree in Teaching. This test assesses both your skills in written English and your ability to formulate a well-structured argument.

Vordingborg

The town is located on the Southwest coast of Zealand and has a population of 12,000 people. It is approximately 1 hour and 20 min by train from Copenhagen. The ruins of Vordingborg Castle, the old royal castle which was built around 1364, is the town's most famous attraction. The only fully remaining part of the castle, the 26 meter tall Goose Tower (Gåsetårnet), is the symbol of the city.

Vordingborg town is at the seaside and has two small marinas. The local beach is well visited during the summer. The campus has approximately 1000 students and has areas for basketball, beach volley and football.
