

INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT MANAGEMENT

Velp (Arnhem) Bachelor English 4 years

Become an expert to build a greener and sustainable world

In short

Do you want to make an impact and contribute to peace and prosperity for people and the planet, now and in the future? During the English-taught programme International Development Management, you will become an expert in sustainable transitions. Meet students from diverse nationalities and backgrounds. Work towards a fairer world through guest lectures, international internships, and practical assignments.

What you will learn

During this programme, you will learn how to contribute to a fair and sustainable society. You will work on themes such as protecting our forests and oceans, reducing poverty, fighting climate change, providing good food for all, preparing for disasters, reducing conflicts and building a society that works for everyone. You will apply your knowledge through two internships and courses with practical case studies.

A photograph of three young adults (two women and one man) standing outdoors in a grassy area. They are smiling and holding up several photographs that show them in various fieldwork settings, including working with a dog, a group of people, and a white van. A large green circular graphic is overlaid on the left side of the image, containing a quote and a name.

“IDM has given me a broad base. As a result, I easily work with people in the field and I am also engaged at the strategic level.”
